

6.11 Analyzing Formative Assessment Key Strategies

Instructions: Reflect on your formative assessment practices in relation to these five key strategies (William, 2007) and identify successes and challenges. Select one challenge and identify specific steps for addressing the challenge.

Which of the five key strategies is most comfortable for you?	Which of the five key strategies is most challenging for you?
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Clarifying, sharing, and understanding goals for learning and criteria for success with learners2. Engineering effective classroom discussions, questions, activities, and tasks that elicit evidence of student learning3. Providing feedback that moves learning forward4. Activating students as owners of their own learning5. Activating students as resources for one another	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Clarifying, sharing, and understanding goals for learning and criteria for success with learners2. Engineering effective classroom discussions, questions, activities, and tasks that elicit evidence of student learning3. Providing feedback that moves learning forward4. Activating students as owners of their own learning5. Activating students as resources for one another
Describe:	Describe:
Using your success, how can you build your challenge? What can you do to build the key formative assessment strategy? Include specific action steps and a timeline.	