

Unit Title: Give your unit a title by which it can be referred so that students, parents, administrators and other teachers will know what the basic idea is for the unit. Do not call it “Chapter 3.” A clever title will help you and others remember it.

Standards Addressed: Write out (copy and paste) your standards here. Do not just use the reference numbers which will not mean anything.

By the end of the unit, what will students come to...
