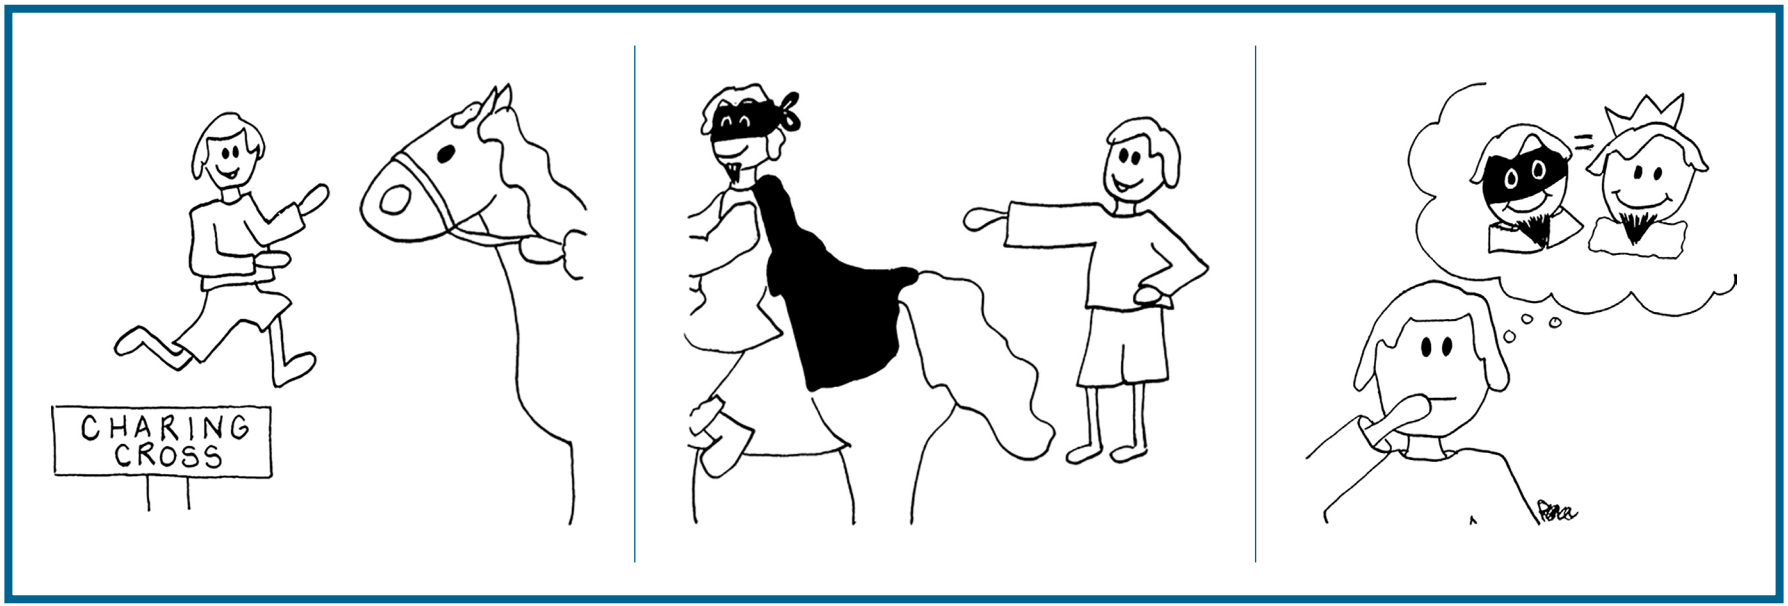
As I Was Going by Charing Cross

As I was going by Charing Cross,

I saw a black man upon a black horse.

They told me it was King Charles the First,

Oh dear! My heart was ready to burst!



Retrieved from the companion website for Text Structures From Nursery Rhymes: Teaching Reading and Writing to Young Children by Gretchen Bernabei, Kayla Shook, and Jayne Hover. Thousand Oaks, CA: Corwin, www.corwin.com.
Copyright © 2018 by Gretchen Bernabei, Kayla Shook, and Jayne Hover. All rights reserved. Reproduction authorized only for the local school site or nonprofit organization that has purchased this book.