

Student Self-Assessment of Progress

Key Question: How can you create a student self-assessment survey?

Directions: Create a student self-assessment survey with your mentor to capture the key questions you want to know from your students. The survey assessment can be general, or if you want to get specific, you can design it that way. Decide whether these surveys should be anonymous or the students should put their names on the papers. Discuss the benefits of either choice.
