Figure 5.13 Secondary Students' Rich Performance Task Descriptors
Title of Work:	Explanation:
"Stay, tell me more"	The art of tarot: the gazing of the future through divine cards, letting the unexpected become expected. The perceptions of the Macbeth tale are told through tarot, allowing the cards to narrate the
Composer(s):	story in metaphor and symbolism. Starting off at
MADIE AND ROBERT	the beginning of the end, the quote of his destined demise: The Tower. Macbeth's reading proceeds to his undying ambition and the moment of realization when he discovers the truth in the false hope given by the witches' words of twist: Five and Ten of Swords. The Lovers and Death reversed, two major cards flipped for their meaning by the hand destiny, each reflecting on the journey of the Thane of Cawdor, the journey of a man unsated by the throne.

Source: Students Madison McKenna and Robert Cardona. Veronica Schinella, leader of learning, Emmaus Catholic College.