The distance learning playbooks were the brainchild of Elena Nikitina at Corwin, who proposed the original idea that energized everyone as a way to collaboratively support teaching and learning, distance or otherwise. This book would not exist without the tireless efforts of our amazing editor, Lisa Luedeke, who mobilized the collective effort needed to bring it to life. We are grateful to both of you for your vision and can-do attitude.

We are also grateful to our colleagues from colleges and universities around the country who were willing to share their approaches to distance learning. Thank you!
