I am so thankful to my wife, Shelley, who is my best friend, my Light, my rock, my every single thing. Shelley designs our life together in a way that brings me more joy than I ever thought imaginable. Thank you for believing in this book and me. And thank you for being the best mother to our daughters.

I also thank my daughters, Anna and Elise, for being so patient with me as I balanced much to finish this book project. Anna: thank you for your confidence, courage, and growth over the years. You are so bright, caring, and capable. Elise: thank you for taking up the writing “gene” from me. I cannot wait to read your bestseller someday. You are so bright, athletic, and empathetic. I am honored to be Anna and Elise’s dad.

Along with my siblings, Tanya and Reginald, I carry with me the legacy and excellence of my parents, Henry III and Barbara. And special acknowledgment of my mother-in-law, Margaret Banks.

What I know for sure is that, through all my efforts and achievements, I am most proud of being Shelley’s husband, Anna and Elise’s daddy, Henry and Barbara’s son, and Tanya and Reginald’s brother.

Finally, there is no way I could have pulled this book project together had it not been for the support and encouragement of Dan Alpert and Lucas Schleicher from Corwin. And to every single young person, educator, community member, colleague, policymaker, advocate, family member, and friend who has taught and encouraged me: thank you! I acknowledge and appreciate you all.
