

August 28

I think that tomorrow, Thursday, the U.S. will attack Syria. There is a lot of bloodshed, (they are) and they're killing each other. And Assad used chemical weapons. (they are) They're killing their own people. Syria is a dangerous country right now. So many civilians have died over there, people are dying without a scratch or a drop of blood, which is a sign of chemical weapons. There is also no way of getting out except for escaping. Syria said if the U.S. attacks Syria, (they are) they're going to attack Israel, and so will Iran. They might be bluffing, but nobody really knows what (they are) they're thinking. (they are) They're aware that it has happened before, but I think Syria knows it will get destroyed by Israel, and I hope Iran knows, too.

—Ilan Sonsino
Grade 8