Purpose

- To record your movements as you read to recreate the text you have mentally put together as you made sense of all the material you come across

- To be conscious of how rules of notice are used to attract our attention, keep it, and lead it down particular paths

Although you may find this painstaking, it's like an investigator recreating an incident to see it better. Use the writing frame example to get started.

Writing Frame for Recreating Your Reading Journey

We began by reading [DESCRIBE WHAT YOU READ] _____

_____ because [EXPLAIN WHY YOU READ IT: INTEREST/INTRIGUE/LOOKING FOR

FURTHER INFORMATION/SKEPTICISM—ALL GREAT REASONS] _____

_____.

Then we clicked [DESCRIBE WHAT YOU CLICKED] _____

because [EXPLAIN WHY YOU CLICKED AND HOW IT LINKED TO WHAT YOU READ BEFORE]

_____ .

_____

_____

 and we read [DESCRIBE WHAT YOU READ] _____

_____

_____

_____because [EXPLAIN WHY YOU READ IT] _____

_____

_____

_____.

Then we read [CONTINUE WRITING UP YOUR READING PATH USING THESE PROMPTS].