

MENTORING IN ACTION RESOURCES

I have spent much of my time in the last two decades of my career developing programs for mentors and novice teachers. Many of these resources were funded by federal or state grants, and I felt they would be lost when the grant was completed. So, I decided to create and fund my own website to host the resources that I felt would continue to support teachers and school leaders. This turned into the founding of Mentoring in Action (<https://mentoringinaction.com/>), and the vision has continued from there.

The resources, courses, and podcasts are offered to you at no charge.

Resources

<https://mentoringinaction.com/resources-3/>

These include an extensive video library, “Mindful Memos” that go along with the mentoring books, group mentoring ideas, ways to integrate student perspectives and voices through anonymous surveys, and examples of district action plans.

Video library: <https://mentoringinaction.com/video-library>

“Mindful Memos”: <https://mentoringinaction.com/mindful-mentoring-memos>

Group mentoring: <https://mentoringinaction.com/group-mentoring>

Student perspectives: <https://mentoringinaction.com/student-perspectives>

District action plans: <https://mentoringinaction.com/district-action-plans>

Podcasts

<https://mentoringinaction.com/podcasts/>

These include the Teaching With Light interviews, a podcast companion to Mindful Mentoring: A Guide for Mentors and Mentees, and monthly podcasts that offer you a place to reflect and that accompany the mindfulness journal Mindful Living: Art and Affirmations to Nourish Your Soul.

<https://anchor.fm/teachingwithlight>

Mindful Mentoring: A Guide: <https://mentoringinaction.com/mindful-mentoring>

Mindful Living: Art: <https://mentoringinaction.com/mindful-living-podcasts>

Two Courses

<https://mentoringinaction.com/free-courses/>

The mentoring course provides an overview of the book Mentoring in Action and gives mentors a clear understanding of the month-by-month curriculum. The novice teacher course recommended for year 2 or 3 is an overview of The First Years Matter book and its relevance to supporting a beginner in becoming a more effective teacher.

Books

<https://mentoringinaction.com/books/>

Books are available from Corwin (<https://us.corwin.com/en-us/nam/author/carol-pelletier-radford>) or Amazon. Note: A Mindful Living Journal and Mindful Mentoring are only available on Amazon. If your district is large, consider purchasing options directly from the publisher Corwin.

<https://us.corwin.com/en-us/nam/teaching-with-light/book274670>