

Whose

Proof:

whose = his

Ex:

(his)

Whose envelopes are these?

PRACTICE THE CONVERSATION:

B: Whose envelopes are these?

A: Hmm . . . how did you spell whose?

B: W-h-o-s-e.

A: I'm afraid that's completely wrong.

B: I'm afraid it's completely right.

A: Prove it?

B: His envelopes are these? That sounds weird.

A: Would you like to rearrange the words?

B: Okay, these are his envelopes?

A: These are his envelopes, these are whose envelopes? Yep, that's completely right.

B: All righty then.

A: . . .
