

All ready

Proof:

all ready = not ready

Ex:

The class is ^(not ready) all ready for vacation.

PRACTICE THE CONVERSATION:

A: Will you please read the sentence?

B: The class is all ready for vacation.

A: How many words are all ready? One or two?

B: Two.

A: Oh, I think you meant to use the other one.

B: I don't think so.

A: Can you prove it?

B: The class is not ready for vacation.
