

Less

Proof:

Can you count them? No.

Ex:

(uncountable)

We have less furniture than we used to.

PRACTICE THE CONVERSATION:

A: Will you please read the sentence?

B: We have less furniture than we used to.

A: Great. Just one second. I think you meant fewer, not less.

B: No, you wouldn't say fewer furniture. You could say fewer pieces of furniture, because you can count pieces. But furniture is not countable.

A: You're right! Good job.
