Cooking Show

I am going to do a cooking show on “fewer.” Here are the contestants: Zach Prescott, Lauren Messer, Ben Brody. Give it up for the contestants. Oo yeah. The three contestants have to pick a different amount of the three core ingredients which are rice, beans and ground beef. They can add any other ingredients they want for their soup, though. Zack ^(countable) picks fewer grains of rice than Lauren does. Ben picks ^(countable) fewer grains of rice than Lauren does but more than Zack picks. Zack picks ^(countable) fewer beans and meat than Lauren and Ben, but Ben picks ^(countable) fewer than Lauren. Now they have their three core ingredients. Now they start cooking. Lauren adds a little spice to her soup but Ben adds ^(countable) fewer grains of spice to his soup but also adds some salt and pepper. Zach adds some spinach and salt to his soup, but Ben and Lauren do the same but ^(countable) fewer pieces than Zach does. They finished cooking and now it's time for the judges to try it out and give first second and third place. Ben's definately tastes the best so he gets first. Lauren gets second and I get third.
