PRACTICE THE CONVERSATION:

A: Will you please read the sentence?

B: We have fewer chairs than we used to.

A: Good. But wait! Don't you mean less chairs?

B: No, I sure don't.

A: How do you know you should use fewer?

B: You can count chairs. So you use fewer.

A: You're right! It's correct! Good job.
