

APPENDIX G

Directional Supports for Beginning Teachers

Emotional	Communication	Physical	Instructional
Your North! Emotional support encompasses the health and well-being of teachers and students.	Your South! Communication support pertains to the interactions from student-to-student, student-to-teacher, teacher-to-colleague, and also teacher-to-parent.	Your East! Physical support involves tangible and procedural parts that are accustomed to the role of teaching.	Your West! Instructional support entails the use of teaching practices centered around methods and instructional strategies.

(Continued)

(Continued)

Emotional	Communication	Physical	Instructional
It includes <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Knowing and understanding the trauma students face• Social-emotional needs of both students and teachers themselves• Absence of self-care of a teacher	It includes <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Student management concerns• Parent phone calls• Collaboration norms with teammates• Observations by administrators	It includes <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Providing information about locations• Figuring out copiers• Building procedures and schedules• Classroom setup	It includes <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Choosing appropriate methods and instructional strategies to meet student needs• Observing job-alike classrooms to deepen the instructional impact of students• Discussing our impact on student learning and achievement

*Adapted from Boogren (2015)