

Argumentative Freewrite

Please write a one-page typed (or two pages handwritten) freewrite where you argue anything that you want to argue. You could argue that schools should not have homework, that you should get a dog, or about how this country handles illegal immigration. You could argue something political, social, or personal. You could argue something completely absurd. It is entirely up to you.

In your freewrite, I want you to use, underline, and label at least 10 of our argumentative tools.

This is worth 10 points, graded on whether or not the elements above add to your argument in significant ways.
