A Field Guide for Developing Race Consciousness

Candace Raskin, Melissa Krull, Antonia Felix

With over 10 years of experience leading the Institute for Courageous Principal Leadership, the authors guide leaders as they expand their racial consciousness through self-reflection. They also provide the tools needed to counter implicit bias and resistance. Grounded in research, but written in practitioner-friendly language, this book:

- Focuses on systemic leadership and institutional failures as the source of predictable student outcomes
- Leverages research and theory to create a process for principals to build racially equitable practices
- Navigates the politics of leadership without compromising student achievement

The practical lessons and strategies in this book will equip you with the skills to implement the leadership and actions that must be taken to confront the reality of systemic racism in education and transform schools into learning environments with a student-centered commitment to high achievement for every learner.

“Principal Leadership for Racial Equity: A Field Guide for Developing Race Consciousness provides tools and reflection for all leaders in education to begin to become true agents of change in our schools and more importantly come to grips with their own biases so that we see more commonalities. This book will allow us to lean into discomfort and become more human.”
