

Overview of Lab Class

MEETING	PURPOSE	DATE
Networked Lab Class Meeting—all schools attend at First Street School	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Share student learning and professional learning with grade-level colleagues</li> <li>• Classroom observation visits</li> <li>• Engage in exploration of professional resources</li> <li>• Determine next steps</li> </ul>	Mid-December Full Day
Lab Class Observation—held separately at each individual school	Each school chooses a half-day that works best for their schedule to observe in two teachers' classrooms. This visit must take place before the next Networked Lab Class Meeting.	Mid-December to Late January Half Day
Networked Lab Class Meeting—all schools attend at Second Street School	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Share student learning and professional learning with grade-level colleagues</li> <li>• Classroom observation visits</li> <li>• Engage in exploration of professional resources</li> <li>• Determine next steps</li> </ul>	Early February Full Day
Lab Class Observation—held separately at each individual school	Each school chooses a half-day that works best for their schedule to observe in two teachers' classrooms. This visit must take place before the next Networked Lab Class Meeting.	Early February to Late March Half Day
Final Networked Lab Class Meeting—all schools attend at Third Street School	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Share student learning and professional learning with grade-level colleagues</li> <li>• Classroom observation visits</li> <li>• Determine strategies for sharing our learning</li> <li>• Consolidation</li> </ul>	Early April Full Day

Potential Overall Schedule for Multiple Teachers/Multiple Schools

Retrieved from the companion website for Lab Class: Professional Learning Through Collaborative Inquiry and Student Observation by Lisa Cranston. Thousand Oaks, CA: Corwin, www.corwin.com. Copyright © 2019 by Corwin. All rights reserved. Reproduction authorized only for the local school site or nonprofit organization that has purchased this book.